

Animal Agriculture in China

Program Description:

Stationed at China Agricultural University in Beijing, the capital of the world's second-largest economy (after the US), for 3 weeks, students will learn a great deal of China's animal agricultural practices, animal product consumption patterns, and its veterinary service. Fantastic lectures will be delivered by the top Chinese faculty members and industry leaders in the fields. Experts in the allied American companies in China will also come to the sites to give seminars on their foreign business development and management. Several excursions will be arranged to explore Chinese livestock and poultry farms. In addition, students will be escorted by their Chinese counterparts to experience the country's culture, cuisine, language, and several very attractive sights during this program. In short, this program will provide students with informative, educational, valuable, enjoyable, and memorable international experiences to well prepare them ahead of time for their careers related to animals and animal products.
