Shackouls Honors College Summer Study at The University of Oxford

Program Description
The Shackouls Honors College at Mississippi State sponsors a study opportunity at Oxford University working with our overseas partner, the Oxford Study Abroad Programme (OSAP). OSAP places students of academic distinction at the affiliated colleges of Oxford. Founded about AD 1090, Oxford is the oldest English-speaking university in the world and is considered to be one of the two or three best institutions of higher education in the world.

OSAP, which was founded in 1985, has placed students at colleges of Oxford University from nearly 600 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada. Emphasizing the unique Oxford tutorial method of teaching, OSAP students study with world-renowned scholars.

With privileges at four of the top-ranked colleges at Oxford University - New College, Christ Church, Magdalen College, and Trinity College - OSAP students have access to their libraries, clubs, societies, dining halls, and chapels as well as over six million volumes of books in libraries throughout the University. The OSAP staff arranges housing, social activities, excursions, and field-trips in the region.
